

Coherency Controller is just another memory arbiter to make sure only one cache does a memory operation at a time. The snooping logic in the caches ensures sharing coherency.